About you

Are you dynamic, collaborative and passionate about improving the air that children breathe? Do you inspire change, have knowledge of children's rights and UN mechanisms and have experience of campaigning internationally to achieve demonstrable results?

Would you like to be part of a high-performance team helping to ensure that children across the world can breathe clean air? If so, Global Action Plan is looking for an International Campaigner to support the development and implementation of an international campaign, with a UK element, on children's right to clean air.

The Project Manager, International Campaign we recruit will be an excellent candidate, with experience of rights based campaigning and working with the UN, with the initiative to seize opportunities and the adaptability to move fast to secure results.

About us

Global Action Plan is a dynamic charity that is tackling the root cause of environmental breakdown and health inequalities. We mobilise government, business, the media and the public to play their part in solving our climate and ecological crisis. We draw out the links between health and wellbeing with environmental action to drive change at a deeper level.

Position details: Project Manager, International Campaign, Clean Air

We work with young people on new ideas about wellbeing and consumerism; that what makes them happier will at the same time be better for the planet. And we bring progressive businesses and school children together to work on ground-breaking projects that develop leaders of future and have a benefit on our environment today.

We work on air quality and are the people behind Clean Air Day (the UK's biggest air pollution campaign), the co-creators of the Clean Air Hospital Framework, the founders of the Businesses Clean Air Taskforce, the producers of the Clean Air Schools Framework, the designers of the Clean Air Public Insights Tracker and the architects of the Clean Air Hub.

Through our projects and collaborations, Global Action Plan enables people to see, believe and, crucially, act on the insight that what is good for us is good for the planet.

We are looking for a Project Manager, International Campaign who wants to change the future for young people.

This is a really exciting role – a chance to make a real difference to the health and educational outcomes of millions of children by campaigning for children's right to clean air. The Project Manager, International Campaign will:

- Implement an international campaign framework, including strategy, tactics and campaign assets culminating in a global event
- Lead the delivery of the UK element of the campaign, working closely with the communication team on the comms elements
- Work with delivery partners in three countries to ensure consistency of campaign delivery
- Build a coalition of partners committed to call for a child's right to clean air.

Key skills and experience

The successful candidate will have demonstrable experience in:

- Campaigning on human or children's rights issues
- United Nations structures, processes and influencing
- Building coalitions to call for change.
- Leading large scale international influencing events

You will have the following qualities

- Understanding of UN organisations and processes on children's rights
- Proven international campaign skills, to develop and implement highly effective campaign strategies
- Excellent collaborator with great relationship management and influencing skills, with an ability to build, grow and manage coalitions and partnerships
- Written and oral communication skills, in order to clearly communicate messages through a range of medium (e.g. reports, events) to a range of audiences in different countries

Position details: Project Manager, International Campaign, Clean Air

- Creative, flexible and adaptive approach, relishing the chance to take on new challenges and quick to respond
- Strong team management skills, to be able to work with in-country partners and get the best out of your colleagues
- Event management skills, to be able to lead the coordination of an international event featuring children's voices
- Sustainability, health or humanitarian programme experience, preferably with some knowledge about the health impacts and solutions to air pollution.

You will report to the Senior Business Engagement Manager.

Is GAP the right fit for you?

We are looking for someone who will enjoy the dynamic, fast paced and mission driven culture at GAP. We take great care to bring in people who reflect our values and who will thrive here.

Value	What this looks like	What we look for
We challenge the norm	Radical change is needed. We dare to think big and re-imagine how we live and work to bring about real shifts in behaviour and tackle systemic issues not symptoms.	Creativity and passion for tackling big hairy environmental and societal issues. Ability to think big.
We get stuff done	We work hard to have a real impact in everything we do. We aren't happy with talk, we want action, today.	Self-starters who are excited to propose their own direction and priorities - not just receive them.
We share openly	We are honest, straight talking and open. Whether data, ideas, projects or tools we seek to share and collaborate for bigger impact.	People who can see and share their weaknesses as well as their strengths. People who don't hide behind others or jargon. An openness to alternative ideas and points of view.
We look out for each other	We care about the planet and also the people who live on it. We have fun on our mission and make sure that no one gets left behind along the way.	People who walk the talk in their personal and work lives. Relationship builders with great networks they can draw on for support and ideas.

GAP is a fantastic employer with beyond average annual leave, maternity/paternity entitlements, responsibility for change-making projects from day one, and the potential for progression within the organisation to take on additional opportunities to create impact.

If this all sounds exciting and sounds like you, we'd love to hear from you. We are looking for someone who will enjoy the fun and purpose of GAP.
